Tinley Paving

Case Continued

Right of Way

Committee Named

Chas. Doctor, supervisor of Orland township, addressed the Mokena Development Association at their meeting Monday night showing how Orland township got the Cook County Commissioners interested to pave 5 miles on Wolf Road.

A local committee was appointed to see what could be done about getting the right of way on Wolf Road from the Will Cook County line to the Lincoln Highway.

John Rauhoff, Tinley Inventor, Passes Beyond

John Rauhoff, aged sixty years, who has been a resident of Tinley Park for twenty-five years, died at his home at 1:30 a. m., Wednesday. Mr. Rauhoff has been in poor health for several years, but his health began to fail rapidly this summer. He recently took treatments with the famed Mayo Brothers of Rochester, Minnesota, but without success. He suffered much during his last illness.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30, the services to be private. Rev. Forrest Fields of the Tinley Park M. E. church is to officiate.

Mr. Rauhoff came to Tinley at the time when the Spiral Washing Machine factory was started at Tinley Park. He invented the spiral movement used in this machine and from which it got its name. Later he invented "Ironite" a water proof compound used in cement which makes any cement job waterproof. This invention made a big hit with the building trade. A syndicate was formed. A factory was built at Tinley Park and is still in operation. A foreign field was also developed and a factory started in England. A few years ago Mr. Rauhoff took a trip to England to demonstrate the use of Ironite and with marked success.

Mr. Rauhoff also aided in the up building of Tinley Park. He purchased land adjoining the village and started a subdivision. He built a beautiful modern home for himself in this subdivision. His death is a distinct loss to his family and the community.

Mr. Rauhoff is survived by his widow, two sons Millard of Blue Island and Paul of Tinley Park.

W. Pullman Beats

Tinley 24 to 0

Three forward passes completed over the goal line, and one touchdown by a series of line plunges enabled West Pullman to defeat Tinley Park 24 to 0, Sunday afternoon in the city park field of West Pullman. More than 500 fans witnessed the game and were highly pitched at the success of the aerial attack used by Pullman when they had the ball near the goal line, and resorted to passes for gains.

West Pullman used two teams in the game interchangeably. When the regulars tired, the shock reserves were sent in.

Sunday Tinley Park will play at Mount Greenwood. Palos Park bowed to Mount Greenwood Sunday losing 6 to 0 in a close game.

A week from Sunday Palos Park will play at Tinley. Much interest and enthusiasm will be aroused in this series.

Repairing Bridge

Heavy traffic on Wolf Road has worn out the concrete floor of the bridge spanning Hickory Creek south of Mokena. The concrete has been giving way in many places. The concrete flooring is being torn out now and a 3 inch plank floor with metal strips over the planking is being installed. County Superintendent of Highways, Will H. Smith looked over the job last week. The road south of Mokena has been closed to traffic until the bridge is finished.

Traffic is being detoured the Frankfort road on Route 51 and west on the New Lenox road to the Harry Starns road thence south to the Lincoln Highway.

Don C. Hall Says--

The State of Illinois has, among its Citizens, at least one international, two National and one indispensable. Four Political, plumed knights, who have won their spurs by deeds of valor on the battle ground of Public Affairs, men who have paved the way to prominence by sheer force of Will power and desire to do, utilizing those twin characteristics which will prevail in human activity.

These men have no obsessions or false ideas of social inequality. They do not hold themselves aloof from the "common herd" and yet they are not lacking, when occasion demands, in the possession of that impressive dignity which commands respect for those in official position.

Such men attract and hold our attention. They are, at once, "our boys", our Diplomats, our Statesmen; just "real fellows", who are making history, by characteristic deeds of daring in the realm of thought and purpose, for the advancement of State and Nation in foreign and domestic relations, and in those things which should obtain in the interest of protection, improvement and progress.

There are four of them, all headliners. We like to speak of them in rather affectionate terms. We glory in the thought that we can call them their given names without giving offense, and those names, they take us right back to the old, pioneer days when our own folks were laying the foundation, right in the midst of the family circle, upon which these great fellows of today are building the structures demanded in the advancement and progress of a "World aflame" with determination to "go the limit" in establishment, and in the development of forces, now latent, and the always available natural resources.

I shall name these eminent gentlemen, and that I may name them impartially, I shall present them in alphabetical order, using the familiar titles, which have helped to endear them to us.

Bill, Charley, Frank and Len; sounds good don't it, real "homey".

William Hale Thompson who has become a national figure, by reason of his position as Mayor of the most important city in the world and as the leading exponent of the "Lakes to Gulf" inland water way and "Flood Control" projects, Charles G. Dawes, Vice-President, whose keen thought, determined effort and diplomatic proclivities, have established precedents and brought order out of chaos in International problems, settlements and adjustments.

Frank O. Lowden, former governor, with a record at home and abroad, for wisdom and judgment in state affairs, a thorough knowledge of matters pertaining to the safeguarding of the "big interests" of our country and his untiring efforts in the interest and for the protection of the world's greatest industry, producing from the soil, the farming community, and Len Small who has so capably guided the "Ship of State" for some eight years, and whose activities in promoting hard road construction, has established the best system of Statewide Highways within the borders of any state.

I am going to give these four boys credit for possessing the requisite knowledge of the absolute necessity for co-operation; for "united they stand" divided they may fall.

Are there differences of the past? These men are too big to harbor a spirit of revenge, to attempt the elimination of a potential personality for the satisfying of a grudge, which time and intervening events should have obliterated. They need each other, and we need them. If they are relegated to obscurity, the process of isolation will be of their own making. They can lose themselves while we suffer the loss. They can present a solid, harmonious front and win for us, themselves and the country at large.

More importance attaches to these men than they, themselves, can possibly realize. We must not permit to be swayed from the course of harmony, by political roisterers whose narrow minds do not permit them to rise above petty prejudice and the venting of spleen. We of the sober minded electorate, must ask "the boys" to help each other to bear their several burdens of State and National affairs. It appears that each one has recognized in the others, that honesty of purpose, that capable and intelligent quality necessary for carrying forward the several important projects selected.

Shall we be assured that this "re-union together" may extend to the selection of delegates to the National Republican Convention. Shall Mr. Lowden have this delegation if he wants them, without opposition, from Governor Small or Mayor Thompson, who will be one of the most powerful influences in the coming convention? I think so. Shall Vice-President Dawes finish his labors as U. S. Secretary of State in

Bullet Riddled Body Found Near Oak Forest

Chief James L. Devereau of the county highway police redoubled his efforts Saturday to locate John Guonone and Paul Ferri, both of Chicago Heights, who are being sought in connection with the murders of Fred Passini, an alcohol "cooker", and Mrs. Katherine Jones, 39 years old, of 13th street and Berkley avenue East Chicago Heights, an alleged informer for prohibition agents.

The two were found murdered fifteen hours apart. Passini had been "taken for a ride" and his body pitched into a ditch at 167th street and Cicero avenue. He had been shot in the head nine times. Mrs. Jones was killed when she went to answer a call at her front door. Her body was riddled with 69 shotgun slugs. She was the mother of two grown children and recently married Fred Jones, a teamster, who was her fourth husband.

When the police discovered Passini's body they found a receipt issued by the Hansen Sugar company of Chicago Heights. The receipt had been made out to John Guonone for 50 sacks of corn sugar. Another notation bearing the name of Paul Ferri was also found.

The police believe that Guonone had employed Passini as an alcohol "cooker" and that Guonone was responsible for the two slayings. They later learned that Passini and Mrs. Jones had been carrying on a clandestine love affair and while so doing Mrs. Jones gained the confidence of Passini, who told her of several stills he supervised. Later the prohibition agents, with her information raided them.

Another notation in pockets of the dead man was made out to Paul Ferri and called for 55 empty five gallon cans. The police say Ferri and Guonone were the owners of the stills visited by the government men.

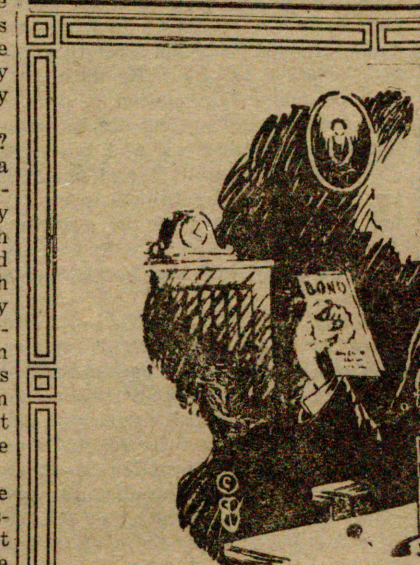

Tinley to Plant

Christmas Tree

Tinley Park is all set for the big event to take place Saturday afternoon, October 22nd when the community all year around Christmas tree will be planted in the open square southwest of the Rock Island depot. The tree to be planted was recently purchased by the Tinley Park Garden Club from a fund raised by the local business men for that purpose. Rudolph Hug was at the head of the movement to create the fund and has aided much in making the community Christmas tree possible. He will be master of ceremonies at the tree planting program to be held this Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. Another boost for the civic spirit of Tinley Park.

the next Cabinet? SURELY.

These are "big fellows", broad minded, "our boys", Bill, Charley, Frank and Len, starting big things, our men, guiding the destinies of our Nation, heart to heart, hand in hand and in the language of D'artagnan of the guards, "All for one and one for all."

Orland State Bank

TELEPHONE ORLAND 61

Harry Miller of Midlothian finds the News-Bulletin reaches the farmer. He ran an adv recently on hogs and had quick sales. He is running another adv in this issue.

Fred Yunker, of Orland says he has always had calls for everything he has advertised in the News-Bulletin.

That the Lincoln monument at Springfield has increased more than 30 times in value was graphically revealed in an invoice of parks and memorials now under state supervision made recently by the state department of public works and buildings. When the Lincoln memorial was originally constructed it cost but $10,000; the monument now invoices at $397,000 and ranks as the most valuable state property.

Three of the state reserves are famous chiefly because of their association with Abraham Lincoln. Besides his tomb, the state maintains his homestead at Springfield, valued at $27,000, and Old Salem State park, where Lincoln was postmaster, which has increased in value from $15,200 to $106,000.

Bids for the construction of several miles of pavement together with bridge and grading sections will be received by the state department of public works on October 19. The pavement sections are as follows:

Route 14, Section 11, White county, 4.25 miles; Route 14, Section 12, White county, 4.50 miles; Route 18, Section 13, Kendall county, .21 miles; Route 128, section 72, DeKalb, Kane county, 2.7 miles; Route 81, Section 101, Henry county, 4.97 miles; Route 116, Section 113, Livingston county, 7.13 miles; Route 116, Section 114, Livingston county, 6.83 miles.

The grading sections are in Vermillion, St. Clair, Henry and Monroe counties. The bridge sections are in Alexander, Pulaski, Cook, Henry, Livingston and Monroe counties.

The division of highways awarded the contract for the pavement on Route 126, Section 116B, Montgomery county, to the Watt Construction company, Winchester, for $21,983.50.

Hard roads in the vicinity of Lincoln will be discussed at a mass meeting to be held at Lincoln Monday, October 17. Gov. Len Small will attend and deliver an address. Col. C. R. Miller, director of the state department of public works and buildings, and Frank T. Sheets, chief highway engineer, will attend.

It will be twelve or fifteen years before Illinois suffers any severe monetary loss from the corn borer, Edwin Bay, Sangamon county farm adviser believes. The ravages of the borer have been lessened in some areas, especially in parts of Ohio, where a clean-up campaign has been inaugurated at the instance of the United States government. The borer may be checked by better farming methods, which include especially the use of a different system of rotation.

Contracts were let on October 8 for six bridges in Macoupin county when the road and bridge committee of the board of supervisors of Macoupin county met with William Yowell, county superintendent of highways. State Treasurer Garrett D. Kinney has credited to the general revenue fund a total of $654,970.08 from interest on state funds in the first eight months of his term, according to the monthly financial statement just issued. The statement shows also that Illinois has a vast amount of cash on hand. This total is $38,598,557.86. The total bonded indebtedness of the state is $139,305,500, of which $91,007,000 is for highways and a balance of $48,281,000 out of the $55,000,000 voted for the soldiers' bonus.

The oldest employee of the state of Illinois celebrated his ninety-second birthday on Tuesday, October 11. He is William Marlowe, custodian of the State Supreme Court building. Mr. Marlowe was born in England in 1825 and came to this country in 1862. He came to Springfield in 1868 and was appointed custodian of the Supreme Court building by Judges Jacob W. Wilkin and Simeon P. Shope, who were in charge of the Springfield division at that time. He was given the position on recommendation of N. L. Freeman, then Supreme court recorder.

Construction of Route 108, extending from Carlinville, through Carrollton and to Kampsville on the Illinois river, will be included in the state's building program for next year, Gov. Len Small told a large delegation of road boosters from Macoupin, Montgomery, Greene and Calhoun counties, who came to Springfield recently on a special train. The delegation was headed by Senator A. S. Cuthbertson, Bunker Hill; Representative Robert Whitely, Carlinville; Representative Truman A. Snell, Carlinville, and Representative M. E. Bray, Litchfield.

Claims of 40 persons, totaling $17,000, for relief for damage done to their property in the wind storm which swept the central portion of the state last spring were examined by the state commission named to settle claims. Dr. Thomas Leonard of the state department of health met with the commission and presented the claims. Representative Henry A. Allen is chairman and Senator Earl B. Searcy, Springfield, is secretary of the commission. The legislature appropriated $50,000 for the relief of storm sufferers.

Device to Measure

Molten Metal's Heat

No thermometer could ever be expected to record the temperature of furnaces or of great masses of molten metal, although the development of science along these lines has made it very necessary to determine the degree of heat in furnaces and contained in masses of metal, such as huge steel billets and great cubes of iron.

The discovery that two different kinds of metal welded together produced a current of electricity was the means of inventing a means whereby there can be determined the quantity of heat, no matter how intense. The current is measured by the voltage and certain temperatures produce certain values in electrical strength, and that is the way the amount of heat is measured in degrees of heat, and this has been found to be accurate.

The principle is applied in a device known as the radiation pyrometer. It can stand at a considerable distance from the furnace or mass of molten metal that is being tested and it will record the internal heat conditions accurately. It is an aid to better steel and iron products, and as the world progresses it will be recorded as one of the great agencies of man to enable him to delve into the mysteries of nature's laboratories. — Washington Star.

The Poor Man's Sport

Track athletics, especially distance running, is the poor man's sport. He needs only his shoes, his cheap running suit and a place to stretch a leg. Most distance men have no trainers, and must prepare themselves until they can make a reputation. They usually work hard all day, either in shops or at desks, and must perform under their leisure for training.—Herbert Reed in the Outlook.

Cause Injury to Trees

Gasoline and oil have been known to injure and cause the death of trees. If such substances come in contact with the bark, particularly in the case of the roots, says a writer in the Washington Star. The oil apparently penetrates to the cambium region, which is a particularly sensitive and actively growing tissue, injuring it beyond repair. It is not necessary that there be toxic substances in the mixture other than the oil and gasoline themselves.

Too much idleness fills up a person's time much more completely and leaves him less his own master, than any other sort of employment whatever.—Burke.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS

Here are two bread recipes to use for an interesting variety:

Bran Bread.—Take one pint of slightly warm water, blend with one cake of compressed yeast and mix with one quart of flour. Beat hard to a smooth batter. Cover and let rise in a warm place until light. Beat one-half cupful of lard into one cupful of sugar and two teaspoonfuls of salt. Add this to the risen mixture and gradually beat in four cupfuls of bran and one cupful of seeded raisins. Beat again. Grease two bread pans and pour into each one-half the mixture; let rise again for an hour in a warm place and bake in a slow oven one hour.

Nut Bread.—Cream three-fourths of a cupful of brown sugar with a tablespoonful of shortening; add one-half teaspoonful of salt, one egg, add a cupful of dates, one-half cupful of nut meats, one cupful of boiling water and one and one-half cupfuls of flour. Add a teaspoonful of soda to the boiling water, mix all well and bake one hour in a slow oven.

Cornflake Macaroons.—Take one cupful each of sugar, cornflakes, ground nuts or coconut, two tablespoonfuls of flour, a little salt, and a few drops of vanilla. Beat two egg whites until stiff, add the sugar gradually, then the cornflakes, nuts and flour. Drop by teaspoonfuls on a buttered baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven until brown.

Spiced Bread Crumb Pudding.—Take one cupful each of bread crumbs, sour milk and brown sugar, one-fourth cupful of shortening, one-half cupful of flour, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoonful of cloves, two tablespoonfuls of molasses, one teaspoonful of soda and three-fourths cupful of chopped raisins. Soak the bread in the milk, cream the shortening and sugar, add other ingredients, then the bread and the milk. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a slow oven for forty-five minutes. Serve cold. This recipe will serve eight.

Maple Custards.—Beat six eggs until foamy, add a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and slowly one-half cupful of maple sirup with three cupfuls of milk. Mix well and pour into custard cups; set these in a pan of water and bake until the custard is set.

Pimento Cheese Dressing.—Add two tablespoonfuls of pimento cream cheese to each cupful of dressing and beat well until thoroughly mixed.

A Few Suggestions.

The French nation has learned, because of necessity, to use meats as flavors and in combination with other foods for nourishment. When we learn how to economize on the most expensive foods we will have less high blood pressure, fewer surgical operations, and altogether much better health. Save on meats and save worry about high prices.

A small amount of meat will flavor a large amount of vegetables. The extractives of meat which give it its appetizing flavor will impart that flavor to the whole dish.

Take a pound of the round of beef, cut it into inch cubes and brown in fat, then cover with boiling water, adding such vegetables as onion, carrot, cabbage or turnip and potatoes—the amount depending upon the number to be served.

The common remark of mothers is that "it is easier to do things myself than to watch the way the children do them." Just don't watch; teach them to care for their toys, let them do things in their own way, with as little watching as possible. There is something to be said for the child. Mothers are too insistent on trifles that are of no account and thus they kill initiative in an active child.

The housemother is the most valuable member of the household and her strength, good health, cheerfulness and efficiency is worth conserving. Try to save as many steps as possible in housekeeping, that is, "let your head save your heels"—a homely maxim—but a good one to keep in mind.

The table appointments may be simple, but it is important that the children should be taught good manners as they must some time live with others. All reasonable rules have become custom because it makes us more agreeable to live with.

We all learn to do by doing, and very small children will learn to love work when given them for play. Variety need not be expensive; it costs thought only. The table should look as attractive as possible when the family gathers there. Spotless runners or a few doilies are less costly to buy and keep laundered than the old-time heavy linen tablecloths. A flower for the center or a small fern or a dish of fruit always adds to the appearance of any table.

Lesson for October 23

THE CALL OF THE PROPHET

LESSON TEXT—I Kings 19:19, 20; Amos 7:10-15; Isa. 6:1-8.

GOLDEN TEXT—I heard the voice of the Lord saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here am I, send me.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Chooses His Helpers.

JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Call to Service.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Spirit of the Volunteer.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Need for Modern Prophets.

A prophet is one who speaks forth the message of another. A prophet may foretell events, but his primary business is to speak forth God's message.

I. The Call of Elisha (I Kings 19:19, 20).

1. His occupation. He seems to have been a well-to-do farmer, as there were twelve yoke of oxen in service when God called him. It was while engaged in his common duty that he received the divine call.

2. How he was called. Elijah cast his mantle upon him as he passed by.

II. The Call of Amos (Amos 7:10-15).

1. His occupation (v. 14). He was a herdsman and gatherer of sycamore fruit.

2. He was a prophet, not by succession nor trained in the prophetic schools.

3. God called him from his humble life to stand before the king. God is not stratified for helpers. He raises up workers from unexpected quarters, fills them with His Spirit and sends them forth.

III. The Call of Isalah (Isa. 6:1-8).

1. Isalah's vision of the Lord (vv. 1-4). No one's ministry will ever be fruitful until he has had a vision of the Lord.

(1) He saw the Lord on His throne (v. 1). The supreme need of a servant of God is to have a vision of Him, even to see Him on His throne. Just now, perhaps as never before, we need a vision of the enthroned Lord, as the awful darkness is settling down upon the world.

(2) He saw the Seraphim above (vv. 2, 3). Their standing indicated that they were in readiness to do His bidding. Their equipment with six wings showed their ability to execute the divine will. In the divine presence, one pair was needed to veil the head from the divine glory, one pair veiled the feet which had been soiled in contact with the world, while the third pair was suspended in midair waiting to depart on the divine errand. As they waited in His presence their continued cry was "Holy, holy, holy."

(3) He saw manifestations of majesty (v. 4). As the holy ones cried the very doorposts moved and the temple was filled with smoke. Smoke indicates the divine presence in anger (Ex. 19:8; 20:18).

2. Isalah's conviction of sin (v. 6). When he got a vision of the holy God he was smitten with a sense of sin. The reason that men think well of themselves is that they have never seen God. Face to face with the Lord, Isalah saw himself as wholly vile. He realized that he had sinned in speech, and if in speech, then in heart, therefore the cry of despair.

3. Isalah cleansed from sin (vv. 6, 7). Having been convicted of and confessed his sin, a burning coal was sent from the altar which purged away his sin. His penitential guilt was forgiven and removed.

4. Isalah's call (v. 8). His call from God did not come until after his cleansing. The purged soul is the soul ready for the Lord's service.

5. Isalah's dedication (v. 8). As soon as he was cleansed he quickly responded for service. The one who has been sanctified and made meet for the Master's service readily responds to the call of God. He did not wait to see the end from the beginning, but freely gave himself up to that service.

6. Isalah's commission (vv. 9-13). Because of the unpromising outlook, Isalah shrank from his responsibility. He saw the people steeped in selfishness, but in spite of that the Lord assured him that their blindness and sin would not continue forever. The people would go on in sin, be taken into captivity, and the land left desolate; but as the oak, after shedding its leaves is for a time apparently lifeless, yet it retains its substance and so can manifest its life, the prophet is given to see under this figure that despite the deadness of the nation a remnant shall be saved. The holy seed of the kingdom shall come to fruition in the last days.

Paine's Claim to Fame

Thomas Paine was born in 1737 and died in 1809. Of his work called "Common Sense" it is said that it was "the first open assertion of American independence, and was probably the most powerful pamphlet that ever influenced a nation's history." In this sense it was Paine who may be said to have influenced the preparation and adoption of the Declaration of Independence.
